

SUMMER LAW FELLOWSHIP

Student Information

SUMMER 2025

TFAS.ORG/LAW

MARION CARROLL

William and Mary Law School
Internship: House Judiciary
Committee
Williamsburg, VA

Marion is a 1L at William and Mary Law School. She participated in the Winter Legal Intensive with the Institute for Justice and is an active member of her school's Federalist Society chapter. She is from Duxbury, Massachusetts, and attended undergraduate at UC Berkeley where she majored in political science. Her favorite class is constitutional law.

LIAM CLANCY

University of New Hampshire
Franklin Pierce School of Law
Internship: Staas & Hasley
Falls Church, VA

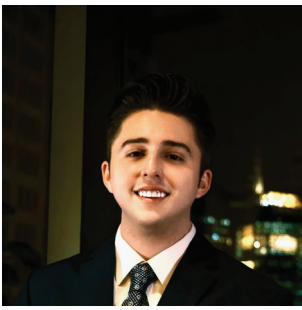

Liam Clancy is a 2L law student, focusing his studies on intellectual property. Growing up within the D.C. beltway, he holds a degree in computational physics from George Mason University where he also studied economics. Specializing in research, he hopes to combine his knowledge of law, economics and STEM in the intellectual property field. In his spare time, Liam enjoys power-lifting, hiking, classic literature and playing jazz guitar.

BRIAN DONOHUE

The George Washington University Law School
Internship: Department of Justice, Office of Immigration Litigation
Arlington, VA

Brian Donohue is a rising 3L. He was an Army Ranger and worked as a civilian military advisor in the Middle East. Now, he hopes to work in civil litigation, with a focus on regulatory issues and administrative law.

WILL DREESEN

University of Montana Alexander
Blewett School of Law

Internship: House Ways & Means
Committee
Missoula, MT

Will is a rising third-year J.D./MBA student who serves on the executive board for the Montana Law Review and as an Articles Editor. Last summer, he served as a judicial intern for Hon. Stephen R. Clark, Chief Judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri. During the academic year, he works as a law clerk at Towe & Fitzpatrick, PLLC in Missoula, and is an active member of the Federalist Society Montana Student Chapter. Will earned his undergraduate degree in international relations and advanced global China studies at New York University Shanghai. While in China, Will interned for FedEx Shanghai's law department, was a member of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Shanghai and served as Treasurer and an executive board member of the NYU Shanghai Undergraduate Business Association. Will has two forthcoming publications: one for the Chinese International Lawyers Bulletin and another in the Significant Montana Cases section of the Montana Law Review. He is a Missouri native and is passionate about statutory interpretation theory and the canons of construction.

GABE GELKE

Villanova University Charles
Widger School of Law

Internship: U.S. Equal
Employment Opportunity
Commission
King of Prussia, PA

Gabe is a rising second-year law student at Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law. He earned his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Notre Dame in economics, with minors in digital marketing, European studies and German language and literature. During his undergraduate education he completed a capstone project titled "The Relationship between the Catholic Church and Law and Justice Party (PiS) in Poland" with the assistance of two Nanovic Institute for European Studies research grants. While at the University of Notre Dame he also was the president of the economics club and held internships in state government, marketing and CPG commercial sales. Prior to law school Gabe worked in media consulting for a Fortune 25 company. At Villanova he was elected a 1L representative for both the Federalist Society and the St. Thomas More Society. In his free time he enjoys watching college football (Go Irish!), going to mass, traveling and keeping up with international politics.

DONALD (D.J.) HALL

George Mason University Antonin
Scalia Law School

Internship: Pacific Legal Foundation
Alexandria, VA

D.J. is a rising second-year law student at George Mason University Antonin Scalia Law School, where he is active in the law school's Federalist Society and Christian Legal Society chapters. This summer, he will be clerking for the Pacific Legal Foundation. D.J. is a graduate of Vanderbilt University, where he majored in political science and minored in history and Russian studies. During college, D.J. interned in the Tennessee House of Representatives and with the Beacon Center of Tennessee, where he learned about the many abuses that governments of all levels perpetuate against individual rights. He is interested in administrative and constitutional law, as well as current issues surrounding property rights and economic liberties. D.J. is also a Local Coordinator with Students for Liberty, where he works to spread the messages of classical liberal thought and free markets on and off campus.

ELLIS JACOBY

University of Alabama School of Law

Internship: U.S. Attorney's Office,
District of Columbia
Tuscaloosa, AL

Ellis is a rising 2L at the University of Alabama Law School, where he serves as the event coordinator for the American Civic Republicans, and is also involved with the St. Thomas Moore Society and Christian Legal Society. He majored in political science and German at Trinity University in San Antonio for his undergraduate degree. While at Trinity he led his Young Conservatives of Texas Chapter and Thomistic Institute Chapter, worked as the Editor-in-Chief of the independent publication the Tower and served as a Leadership Institute Campus Ambassador. He worked as an intern at the Texas Public Policy Institute, and the World Affairs Council of Houston. He was selected as an honors scholar by ISI and a Shaftesbury Fellow by the Center for Religion Culture and Democracy.

HOLLAND JOHNSON

Washington University School of Law

Internship: Media Research
Center / Barr & Klein
Cullman, AL

Holland, a TFAS alumna, is entering her second year of law school. Holland attended Auburn University for her undergraduate studies, where she majored in political science, with a concentration in public administration and a minor in English technical and professional communications. After graduating in 2023, she worked in the Capitol prior to beginning her legal studies in August of 2024. As a sister of 5 adopted siblings with disabilities and peer mentor for students with disabilities, Holland obtained her Disability Advocacy Certification at Auburn University, and is now the Graduate Advisor/President of the Best Buddies WashU Chapter. At WashU, she is involved in the Women's Law Caucus, First Generation Law Caucus, Disability Law Caucus and Federalist Society. As a co-founder of one of the six undergraduate Federalist Society chapters in the nation, she was appointed to serve as the 1L Representative of the Federalist Society at WashU School of Law. Holland is especially passionate about streamlining government processes and strengthening rural areas through community.

VICTORIA KELLY

University of Virginia School of Law

Internship: New Civil Leadership
Alliance
Hornell, NY

Victoria is a rising second-year law student at the University of Virginia School of Law. She received her Bachelor of Arts in political economy from Hillsdale College, where she also competed on the debate team she now helps coach remotely. At UVA, Victoria competes with both the Mock Trial and Moot Court extramural teams and is involved with the Federalist Society and Law Christian Fellowship. In her free time, she enjoys staying active, whether taking part in the longstanding UVA tradition of softball or, when back home, training toward her taekwondo brown belt.

WILLIAM KITCHEN

Arizona State University Sandra
Day O'Connor College of Law
Internship: Americans United for Life
Scottsdale, AZ

William majored in business administration and economics with a focus on econometrics at Arizona State University. He spent a year working as an RA studying the effect legislation has on securities. He graduated summa cum laude in 2023. He then took a gap year traveling through China and New Zealand and working as a beekeeper. William is Vice President of both the Federalist Society and Saint Thomas More Society. He is in his second year of law school.

LAURA LANGFORD

William and Mary Law School
Internship: McGavin, Boyce, Bardot,
Thorsen & Katz
Williamsburg, VA

Laura is a rising third-year. She has a bachelor's degree in political science from BYU, with a focus in international strategy and diplomacy and a minor in history. During undergrad, she studied abroad in London and interned for a semester in Senator Mike Lee's D.C. office. Laura spent a year and half working in marketing for a film production company before law school. Last summer, she interned for an NGO called International Bridges to Justice in Geneva, Switzerland. She loves reading, baking and Colorado Avalanche hockey.

ZACKORY LANGIN

Cleveland State University
College of Law
Internship: Media Research
Center Sheffield Village, OH

Mr. Langin is a rising fourth-year, part-time student. Mr. Langin's goal is to become a constitutional advocate. Mr. Langin's coursework in finance, constitutional law and tax law gives him the foundational skills to approach legislation holistically and articulate free-market public policy in all settings. In criminal defense, Mr. Langin has accumulated skills essential to the fervent protection of constitutional rights at the trial court and appellate levels. During Mr. Langin's externship in chambers, he gained valuable knowledge of the judiciary's relationship with individual rights through the analysis of complex constitutional issues to author draft opinions.

ETHAN MARLOW

Washington University School of Law

Internship: Office of Sen. Eric Schmitt
St. Louis, MO

Ethan is a rising second-year law student at Washington University School of Law, and serves on the board of the WashU chapter of the Federalist Society as well as WashULaw’s Christian Legal Fellowship. He has previously competed in mock trial at the collegiate level, winning awards for individual performance. Prior to starting law school, he worked as a legal assistant for the 20th Circuit Public Defender’s Office in Florida.

ZOE MARTINIS

Brigham Young University J Reuben Clark Law School

Internship: Becket Fund for Religious Liberty
Layton, UT

Zoe is a rising second-year law student with a Bachelor of Arts in History from UC Berkeley. During college, she took an 18-month gap year to serve as a religious volunteer in Finland. Prior to law school, Zoe lived in D.C. for two years where she interned for Congressman Doug LaMalfa (CA-01) and CPAC before working full-time as a political campaign researcher for competitive state and federal races. Zoe was a 1L representative for her school’s Federalist Society. In her free time, Zoe enjoys any kind of physical activity, including hiking, skiing, long-distance running, aerial arts and yoga.

GARRETT MAYO

Georgetown University Law Center

Internship: Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations
Arlington, VA

Garrett is a second-year student at Georgetown University Law Center. While an undergraduate student at the University of Alabama, he interned for Governor Brian Kemp of Georgia. Last summer, he worked as an Election Integrity Law Clerk at the Republican National Committee. On campus, he is an active member of the Georgetown chapter of The Federalist Society, where he currently serves as Director of Members. He also serves as the co-President of the Conservative and Libertarian Student Association at Georgetown and is an editor on the Georgetown Law Journal.

GENEVA MAZHANDU

The University of Tennessee
College of Law

Internship: Americans United for Life
Louisville, TN

Geneva is a rising second-year law student at the University of Tennessee and obtained her Bachelor of Science in public affairs with a certificate in applied research and inquiry from Indiana University in 2022. She wrote an honors thesis studying the attitudes of conservatives amongst different generations towards criminal justice reform policies. Upon graduating with her undergraduate degree, she moved to Washington, D.C., where she worked in the Senate, first as a staff assistant, and later as a press assistant. It important to her to be involved in the local community, which is why she founded Lead for a Change, an initiative promoting youth leadership and providing volunteer opportunities, and while she lived in D.C., held the role of Vice President of the Nation's Capital Alumnae Chapter of Theta Phi Alpha and volunteered with the Friends of the Southeast Library branch. She is also active in the pageant community. As a law student, she is active in Law Women, the Federalist Society and as the Historian of the Black Law Student Association.

CHRISTOPHER MCPHERSON

Boston University School of Law

Internship: Barr & Klein PLLC
Seaford, NY

Chris is a first generation college student in his third year of law school and is passionate about pursuing a career in litigation. As president of his school's Federalist Society, he has demonstrated strong leadership and advocacy skills.

TYLER MRUCZINSKI

Catholic University Columbus
School of Law

Internship: Advancing American
Freedom
Cranford, NJ

Tyler is from the greatest state in the Union, New Jersey. Tyler's interest in history and politics matured while in high school, where he became a state champion in Lincoln-Douglas style debate and captain of the debate team. He attended Immaculata University and obtained a bachelors in political science , graduating magna cum laude. While at Immaculata he was a Heritage Foundation Summer Academy Fellow and spent four months as a Legislative Fellow as a part of the Pennsylvania House Legislative Fellowship Program. Immediately upon graduation he obtained employment as the North Regional Field Director for Curtis Bashaw of the U.S. Senate. At The Catholic University of America, Columbus School of Law, he is a member of the e-board of his Federalist Society chapter where he helps run an originalism reading group.

JASON MURRAY

University of Tulsa College of Law
Internship: The Federalist Society
Kingfisher, OK

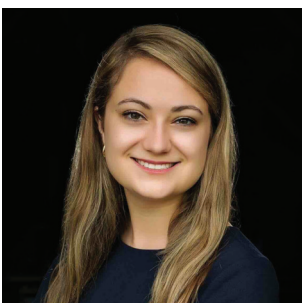

Jason Murray is a student at the University of Tulsa College of Law with a background in public service, policy, politics, livestock and law. He previously served as a law clerk for the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Western District of Oklahoma where he assisted the prosecution of crimes under the DOJ's Project Safe Neighborhoods and Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Forces. Before attending law school, Jason held key roles in Oklahoma state government, including as an advisor to Governor J. Kevin Stitt and Attorney General John M. O'Connor. He currently serves as a regent on the Redlands Community College Board of Regents and is actively involved in the legal community. He is a member of the TU National Trial Competition team, serves on the executive committee of the TU Federalist Society, and is an accredited parliamentarian. Since 2015, he has run a small show pig and cattle operation in Oklahoma and provides livestock consulting to clients across the country. Jason earned a degree in Animal Science from Redlands College in 2017. He has also earned a degree in Agribusiness from OSU.

RORY SATEIKA

Columbia Law School
Internship: Becket Fund for Religious Liberty
Brooklyn, NY

Rory is a rising 2L at Columbia Law School and a representative of the Columbia Federalist Society. This summer, he will be a legal intern with the Becket Fund for Religious Liberty. Before beginning law school, Rory worked at National Review Institute and the political consulting firm Mercury Public Affairs. Rory graduated from New York University magna cum laude in 2024 with a Bachelor of Arts in politics with honors and a minor in economics. As a Presidential Honors Scholar, he received the Rita Cooley Prize for excellence in the field of politics and was awarded a DURF Grant for research on polarization in the United States, which was published in NYU's Inquiry. Rory served as treasurer of the NYU College Republicans and studied abroad at NYU London in the fall of 2022. He previously interned at the office of Congresswoman Nicole Malliotakis, the Brooklyn District Attorney's office and worked part-time at the NYU German Department while studying. Rory is a New York City native and a member of the CLS Soccer Club.

MADELEINE SCHULTZ

Fordham University School of Law
Internship: The Office of the Staff
Judge Advocate, U.S. Army
Manhattan, NY

Madeleine is entering her third year at Fordham University School of Law. Madeleine majored in journalism and minored in political science and public relations at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign. During undergrad, Madeleine worked on multiple political campaigns and impressively grew her university's Turning Point chapter. Immediately upon graduation, she served as an appointee in the first Trump administration in the Department of Health and Human Services public affairs office. Madeleine then moved to Jerusalem, Israel, and became an international correspondent for Just the News before moving to New York City for law school. At Fordham, Madeleine is an officer in her school's Federalist Society chapter, and she is active in the Jewish Law Student Association. In her free time, Madeleine loves crocheting, watching classic movies and taking her dog on walks.

TITUS SCHURTER

George Mason University Antonin Scalia Law School
Internship: Liberty Justice Center
Arlington, VA

Titus has just finished his second year of law school. He is a member of the prestigious Dean's Scholar Scholarship Program and was selected for the National Security Institute's Summer 2024 Study Abroad Program with Supreme Court Justice Neil M. Gorsuch. Titus holds a Bachelor of Science in law and policy from Liberty University, graduating summa cum laude in May 2023. During his undergraduate studies, he was a member of the Liberty University Honors Program and served as Secretary of the Pre-Law Society. Professionally, Titus has gained valuable experience as a legal intern, research assistant and judicial intern. He has worked with Professor Helen Alvaré at George Mason University and the United States Army Judge Advocate General Corps. Additionally, he has interned with judges in both municipal and federal courts, honing his legal research and drafting skills. Titus is passionate about community service and personal development. His interests include East Coast swing dancing, reading, backpacking, horseback riding and going to the gym.

NICHOLAS SIERCO

George Mason University Antonin Scalia Law School
Internship: Institute for Justice
Gambrills, MD

Nick is a rising 3L and a Dave Kennedy Fellow at the Institute for Justice. He serves as an Articles Editor for the George Mason Law Review and on the board of Scalia Law's Federalist Society chapter. During his 1L summer (and 2L spring), Nick clerked for the Pacific Legal Foundation. There, Nick learned of the important role that public interest firms serve in our legal system while gaining experience in appellate litigation. Prior to coming to Scalia Law, Nick graduated with his Bachelor of Arts, magna cum laude, from the University of Maryland and interned for Senator Rand Paul's U.S. Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee staff.

SOPHIA SKORUP

University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law
Internship: U.S. Securities & Exchange Commission
Newtown Square, PA

Sophia is a rising 3L at the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law. She currently serves as the President of the Maryland Intellectual Property Student Association and the Secretary of the Cyber Law and Data Privacy Association. She is an enthusiastic member of the Alternative Dispute Resolution, having recently competed internationally in Tbilisi, Georgia! Sophia is currently interning with the D.C. Court of Appeals in their Mediation group and spent last summer working in-house with Sallie Mae. Sophia attended the University of South Carolina and majored in finance and economics with a minor in biology and is originally from the suburbs of Philadelphia. She has a strong interest in international disputes and intellectual property and is looking forward to learning more about the Constitution and the intersection of law and economics.

MIKELA ST. JOHN

Notre Dame Law School

Internship: Pacific Legal Foundation
San Jose, CA

Mikela is a second-year law student at Notre Dame, where she is a Managing Senior Editor on the Notre Dame Law Review. She graduated from Hillsdale College in 2023, double majoring in politics and philosophy and minoring in theatre. During her 1L summer, she was a law clerk at the Texas Public Policy Foundation. After graduation, she will clerk for Judge David Stras of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit. In her spare time, Mikela enjoys watching college football, theatre and going to the beach.

MARKO SUKOVIC

George Mason University Antonin Scalia Law School

Internship: Berman and Company
Arlington, VA

Marko is a public relations professional and evening student at George Mason University's Antonin Scalia Law School. Before moving to Virginia in the fall of 2024, Marko was the general manager for the organizational development and political tech startup, SurusDH, LLC ("Surus"), which he also cofounded. Born in Chicago, Marko graduated from the University of Illinois in Urbana Champaign where he graduated, cum laude, with a degree in political science. Among his other professional endeavors, Marko worked as a media relations intern for the Pittsburgh Penguins, ran for state representative and was among Turning Point USA's first team members and employees, joining the organization in 2013. Marko is an active member of the Federalist Society and the Republican National Lawyers Association.

REMINGTON TURNER

University of Minnesota Law School

Internship: Pending
Crestwood, KY

Remington Turner is a second-year law student hailing from the Commonwealth of Kentucky. During college, Remington interned with Judge Derwin Webb at the Jefferson County Courthouse. After graduating summa cum laude at the University of Louisville with an Economics degree, Remington traveled to Shanghai, China, to work at the largest law firm in the world, Ying Ke. An avid outdoorsman, Remington spent the summer before law school working in the remote Jemez Mountains in New Mexico. Currently, he is enrolled at The University of Minnesota on a Dean's Distinguished Academic Scholarship. Remington is the Treasurer and Co-President of the Federalist Society and Vice President of the Law and Economics Student Society. Next fall, he will be studying international trade at Uppsala University in Sweden. Remington seeks to pursue a career in federal service and international law.

CAMERON WESTBROOK

Cameron is in his second year of law school. He serves as president of the Denver University Federalist Society, which brings in speakers to debate and discuss important legal issues for the student body. This summer, he will be working as a clerk with Pacific Legal Foundation (PLF). Prior to PLF, Cameron interned with the Institute for Justice's Miami office and with Mountain States Legal Foundation in Colorado. His legal interests are constitutional law, economic and property rights and just compensation in eminent domain cases. When not studying or flying to conferences, he rewatches old shows like The Sopranos and participates in Colorado outdoor recreational activities like hiking, skiing and snowboarding.

University of Denver Sturm College of Law

Internship: Pacific Legal Foundation
Denver, CO

TFAS Academic Internship Programs
1706 New Hampshire Avenue NW
Washington, DC 20009